

Year in Pixels

Directions: Print copies of the following template for your students. Have students select different colors to represent each emotion (e.g. pink for very happy, gray for neutral, blue for sad, etc.) Have students fill in one square for each day of the year with a color that matches how they felt most that day. At the end of the year, have students reflect on their dominate feelings.

Bonus Idea: Have students complete their daily square after they do The Daily Mile to see how their mood changes after movement.
